

THE CAUCASIAN.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

BY THE CAUCASIAN PUBLISHING CO.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
ONE YEAR, $1.00
SIX MONTHS, .50
THREE MONTHS, .25

Entered in the Post Office at Raleigh, N. C., as second-class mail matter.

THE CAUCASIAN BUILDING.

NOTICE.

THE CAUCASIAN is strictly cash in advance. Watch your label. If you time is about to expire, renew at once and don't miss a single copy.

Don't allow your paper to stop now. Keep it up, and if you want to be of any assistance in the great fight of the people against the money powers, induce some one else to subscribe. The next six months will be full of interest and important discussions, and if you miss a copy, some important point may escape you. Let us line up and march together. We are trying to combat the powers of oppression and disaster. It is your fight. Are you helping any?

A POINTER!

The Rothschilds are beginning to buy up silver. These money sharks are the individuals that caused the demonetization of silver in 1873. They sent one Ernest Seyd over here to do this work, and gave him five hundred thousand dollars to do it with. (See American Bankers' Magazine, August, 1873.) They had bought up about sixty million dollars of United States bonds at less than par. These bonds had been made payable in "coin." Coin meant both gold and silver when these bonds were first issued. Then the Rothschilds carried through their scheme to demonetize silver. This doubled the value of the bonds as measured by produce; and by this scheme the Jews made an immense amount of money.

Now the silver storm is coming. These keen old fellows see it. In fact it may be a part of their great scheme. By demonetizing silver they put the price of it down. While it is down, they will buy up lots of it. Then they will quit fighting for gold alone, and help demonetize silver. Then all the silver they have will double in value. Can you see how these smart money men work their great schemes?

But this is no good reason for turning against silver. The Rothschilds and all the bankers combined will find it very difficult to control it all, and to make silver the same kind of money it was up to 1873 will do the people a world of good. Silver must be the first step in the money reform. If people keep on studying the question, they will soon find out what a fool thing it is to have only silver and gold for money. But this is a long road to travel, and people en masse have not been quick to learn. They will find, however, that they must learn if they will be free men. And it will not be many years before both silver and gold will be demonetized.

Then the people will prosper as never before. The money will be issued like bonds are issued now. If the government can issue a bond, why can't it issue a note? The bond is backed up by the faith and credit of the government. A note can be issued the same way.

Let's take an illustration. The government now issues a bond for $1,000, to run thirty years at four per cent. One year's interest is therefore forty dollars. Thirty years' interest is twelve hundred dollars. When the one thousand dollar bond with its thirty years' interest is paid up, the total payment is twenty-two hundred dollars. This is two hundred dollars more than twice the original debt.

Now the government must get this twenty-two hundred dollars from somewhere. Why should it pay some money shark twelve hundred dollars for the use of one thousand dollars? Why can't it issue treasury notes—just like those now in circulation—for one thousand dollars instead, bearing no interest, to run thirty years? Even if it was the only redemption money it would be better for the people; for if the government can collect twelve hundred dollars to pay interest for thirty years, it can certainly collect one thousand dollars in that length of time to take up its notes. What right has the government to make one citizen pay taxes to give to another citizen as interest?

These are just a few outline remarks. Suppose you think them over. See if they do not open up an interesting question. Now, when you learn that the fellows who get all the bonds control all the money of the country, you will begin to get an idea of the Democratic and Republican system of finance. Do you begin to see it?

HAD, IF IT IS SO.

The Democratic papers are kicking up a hullabaloo over the claim that Senator Pritchard professes to be for free silver, and is yet an ardent advocate of McKinley's candidacy for the presidency. They affirm that McKinley is a gold bug. Then they say that Pritchard is a gold bug, and since the Populists voted for Pritchard, they are gold bugs.

If McKinley is a gold bug, then the course of Mr. Pritchard is one for which we have no commendation, and with which we have no patience. He knows he cannot advocate goldbuggery and at the same time accord with the wishes of a majority of the people of his State. But the statement that McKinley is a gold bug is simply an assumption. Nobody knows what he is. Nobody knows what any presidential candidate is on the question, unless Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Sibley are regarded as candidates. In this event, we know Cleveland is a gold bug, and Sibley a bimetalist.

But this is none of the CAUCASIAN's fight. We are for a Populist. We are not for McKinley, Harrison, Reed, Cleveland nor Sibley as things stand. The man whom the Populists want will be introduced in due time, and he will probably get as many as one-third of the votes cast in the next election—possibly more. And he will be for free silver without reservation or conditional provision.

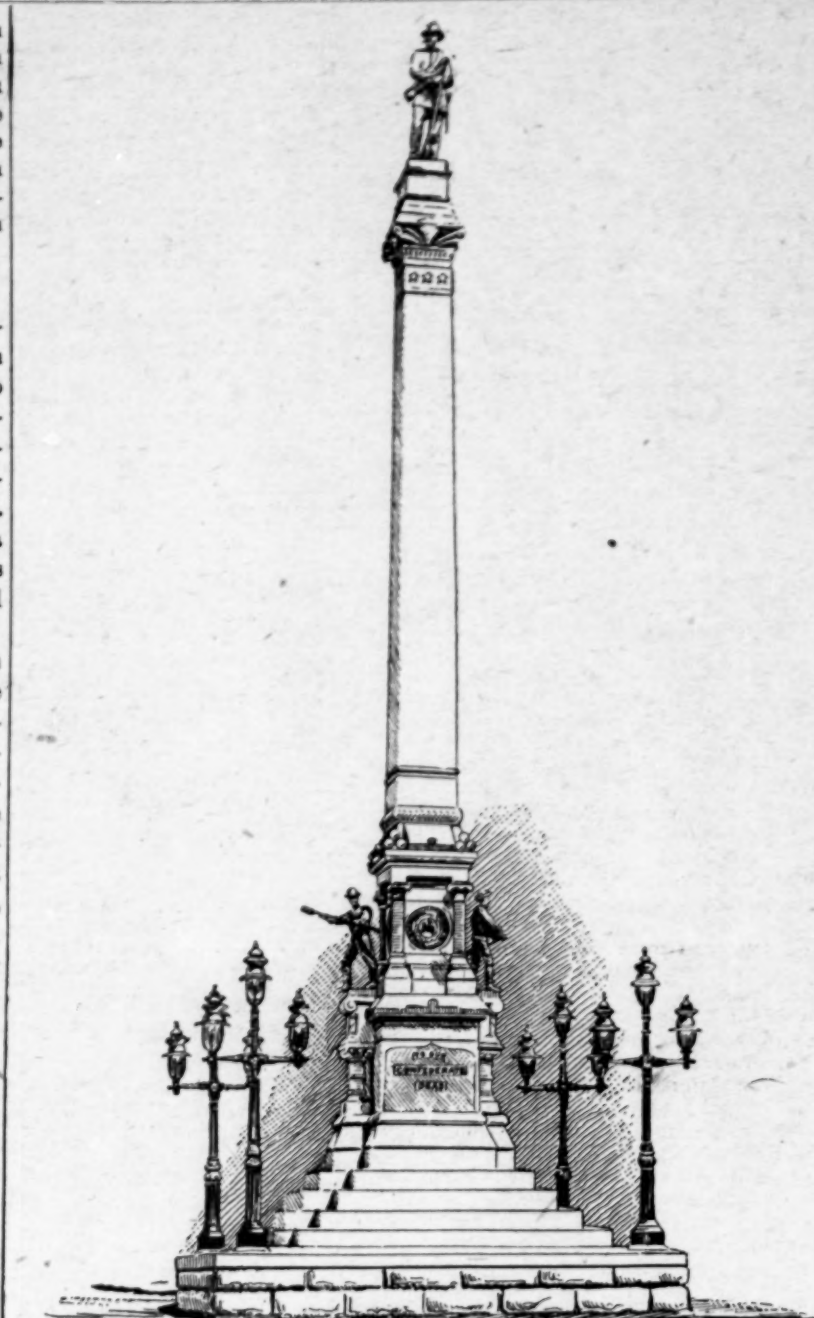

If the claim of the Democratic papers concerning Mr. Pritchard should prove true, we would not feel disturbed. We know one thing. The movement and upheaval that put Mr. Pritchard in the Senate also put Marion Butler there. The Democrats and everybody else may stake their eternal salvation on the fact that he is for free silver. And this means that the people of the State have at least one Senator from North Carolina. This would not have been a certainty in case the Democrats had won. We might have had—in all probability would have had—two gold bugs; for Democratic success last year would have made that party profanely arrogant, and they would have blatantly followed the leadership of Cleveland regardless of where it led to.

Now, it occurs to us that the Democratic papers might have a little pastime by applying their logic to their own case. They supported Cleveland. There's no doubt about his being a goldbug. Then, what are these Democratic papers? The Charlotte Observer is one of two that have announced their position—and that is goldbugism. The Fayetteville Observer has emphatically aligned itself with the silver movement. The others are leaving people to guess where they are at, and are probably guessing themselves.

Finally we dare and defy any other Democratic paper to take a positive stand. We dare them to say what they will do or will not do in case the National Democratic convention should nominate a goldbug. Come out now. Quit skulking, doubling and dodging. We dare you to a stated and unmistakable expression. If you are too cowardly to make it, then for goodness' sake stop trying to throw mud at other folks.

Why does vice-President Stevenson refuse to say where he stands on the financial question. He refused to attend the meeting of the silver men in Chicago or to tell them where he stood. At the same time Cleveland wrote a letter to the goldbugs in Chicago endorsing their meeting and their ideas. If Stevenson was opposed to Cleveland and in favor of silver he should have had the courage and manhood to say so. At one time he was very pronounced in favor of silver and legal tender treasury notes. There is but one explanation for his silence. He hopes to be the Democratic candidate for President on a double-faced-shoddy platform. Then he will say that he stands on the platform. Then the Southern speakers will quote his votes and speeches in Congress 20 years ago to fool the people. But the people will remember that at that time Carlisle was also speaking for silver, though now he is a rank goldbug. If Stevenson is nominated he will have to make a bargain with the goldbugs; if he has not already done so. Our readers should keep this editorial and watch future events.

The desperate attempts of some would-be-old-party-leaders to appropriate the living principles of the Populist platform are amusingly pathetic.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

Erected by the Women of North Carolina.

UNVEILED MAY 20TH, 1895.

The design of the monument is on the Corinthian order. The first base is six feet square, on which stands a large die block containing the seal of the State of North Carolina and also the seal of the Confederate States of America. On each side is a statue, one of cavalry in the act of drawing a sword, the other an artilleryman with the rammer in his hand. The die block is surrounded by a large shaft weighing about 8,500 pounds. This shaft is surmounted by a Corinthian cap, on which stands the figure of a young infantryman. This is ten feet in height. All the statuary is of bronze, cast at the Royal Foundry in Munich, Bavaria. The modeling was done by Prof. Von Miller, the finest sculptor in bronze living. The entire monument is seventy-five feet high and is finely proportioned. It was designed and erected by the Muldoon Monument Company, and Col. Muldoon says it is to-day one of the handsomest granite monuments in America.

A MONUMENT TO THE DEAD.

A Memorial of Granite and Bronze to The Thousands Who Gave Their Life For Their Cause.

GREAT DAY FOR THE STATE.

Thousands of People From Everywhere Participated in "Stonewall" Jackson's Grand-Daughter Unveils The Shaft—Many Old Veterans in Line—Who Are Cheered by Thousands of People.

Monday, May 20th was one of the greatest, if not the greatest day in the history of Raleigh. It was the occasion of the unveiling of the monument to the Confederate dead. Arrangements for the event had been under way for several days, and the culmination was a grand occurrence.

People came from everywhere. There were perhaps twenty thousand visitors in Raleigh. The city belonged to the visitors that day. They were welcome. Everybody living in Raleigh was ready to do anything that needed to be done. Big halls and tremendous warehouses had been transferred into free restaurants. The military and old veterans were invited to partake of the necessities of life without money and without price, and Raleigh people will forever feel grateful to them for accepting the invitation.

The city was a blaze of glory. The large and more prominent buildings were decorated and draped with brilliant colors to such an extent as to make the principal streets a grand wilderness of color. People began to come to Raleigh on Saturday, the 18th, in great numbers. On Sunday they came in even greater numbers. On Monday they poured in on every road as fast as they could follow each other until 12 o'clock.

Among those who came were thousands of old veterans who followed the flag of the Confederacy over thirty years ago. They were welcomed and cheered as they came in sight by deafening volumes of good old "Rebel yell." It is unnecessary here to recount the multitudinous and interesting features of the day. One of its features was the grand parade in honor of the occasion. This particular incident was under the management of Mr. O. J. Carroll, chief marshal of the day, and he formed and led the grandest pageant of peace the State of North Carolina has ever known. The procession formed on Fayetteville street near the Graded schools. As it moved through the thronged and crowded streets, cheering and waving from thousands of throats. These greetings were answered by cheers from the old veterans in line, who waved their hats and yelled and whooped as only old Confederates can. The whole scene was inspiring, and one which will be forever remembered by those who saw it.

MISS JULIA JACKSON CHRISTIAN

She Unveiled the Monument, Age Seven.

Horses. The latter, commanded by Lieutenant J. C. Morrison, looked the typical "savior soldier" that they are, and their two Gatling guns were pulled by hand. Newburn also had a creditable turn out of her division of Reserves. Lieutenant J. C. Morrison was in command.

The uniform band of "Knights of Pythias, Zeb Vance Division came next. Then came the grand old veterans. As they marched up the line people became wild with enthusiasm. Hats were waved and thrown into the air. Handkerchiefs fluttered and flags waved from all the thousands of windows and numerous balconies along the line.

First came the A. P. Hill Camp from Petersburg; they were all uniformed in gray. Then came the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry company, the oldest organization in the State, wearing the gray. They acted as escort to the Bryan Grimes Camp of Veterans and both the members of the Fayetteville company and the Veterans were honored by the arrangement. The Veterans, many of them aged and disabled, were in command of Capt. W. H. Overman. They wore white helmets.

Johnston county sent over 100 veterans, Green county 80, Wayne county 100, Person 40, Guilford 20, and Harnett 20.

Besides these veterans in companies, there were many present who were not connected with any organization, and they were in line.

Durham's veterans, an even thousand, marched behind the music of Durham's excellent band. They were headed by Col. Julian S. Carr. Following the delegation was a handsome, black draped car with the inscription, "In memoriam—Durham County's Legion." "Faithful unto death, Raleigh, May 20."

The members of the Durham tobacco board of trade followed. There were eighty of these in line and they carried canes, from which hung the famous yellow leaf.

At the end of the procession came Raleigh's excellent Fire Department, Chief Mahler at the head.

The old veterans carried among them many an old flag, some of them riddled and torn almost to shreds by the storm of leaden hail through which they had passed.

The line of March ended at the handsome monument. When the procession arrived thousands upon thousands of people were assembled around it.

The formal ceremonies were opened with prayer by Rev. Bennett Smedes. Capt. Samuel A. Ashe delivered the address of welcome. Col. Col. McClure then introduced the orator of the day, Col. A. M. Waddell. His address was eloquent, patriotic and masterly. After him, Col. C. A. Cook as judge, presided over the exercises.

Then Ewart and Cook spoke for the officers, and the matter got before the Supreme court.

Last week, the court decided the case of Ewart against Jones, and declared in favor of Ewart. But in the case of Cook against Meares there was a feature which the country are not aware of. This was the fact that Cook was elected to the judgeship before the law creating the new courts was ratified.

The legislature anticipated establishing the courts, and was not as watchful of technicalities as professional politicians would have been. Therefore, in naming men for the judgeships, they elected Mr. Cook before they made the law complete. This fact was regarded by the Supreme court as irregular, and it decided that the appointee of the Governor is entitled to the office. The Court in its decision said:

"We put our judgement on this act, now the law, which provides that it shall be in effect from and after its passage, and in effect saying that it shall not be in effect before that time, and upon the opinion of Rhodes against Hampton, which holds that a person who is appointed to an office does not exist at the time of the election. It is better that the intention of the legislature should be defeated than that we should violate the law."

We have several times called attention to the tactics of the goldbug "Sound Currency," Honest Money Leagues, &c. We tell you again they have money to spend for the purpose of trying to mislead the people. The latest is an attempt to answer "that wonderful little book 'Coin's Financial School.'" This is about the seventh "answer(?)" that has been written. This one is sent out by the "Sound Money League," of Wall street, New York, and is named "Coin's Financial Fool." It is another instance of a resort to abuse when argument can not be met. The following notice goes with the book:

"Should you prefer, you may change the address to which applications should be made for copies of this pamphlet to that of your own office. Upon being notified of such change we shall be glad to furnish you 100 copies free of charge. Marked copies of your newspaper containing any mention of our work, or any suggestion which occurs to you, will be thankfully received at this office. These pamphlets are not copyrighted, and you are free to reproduce them without credit, as you may prefer."

"Should you desire to offer a half year's subscription to your paper, we will, upon receipt of your order, send you a choice of any five numbers, as a premium for your subscription to your paper, we will, until further notice, supply the necessary pamphlets free of charge."

This pamphlet comes from the same street in which the "Reform Club" has its headquarters. We have already told you this club practically offered to print papers free of charge. Now, here is another free goldbug offer. Somebody pays for these publications, and there is a purpose in paying for them. You may think the matter out.

A very encouraging sign is the fact that while such books as "Coin's Financial School" are not distributed free of charge, they are being more widely read than all the "answers(?)" made to it, though the writers of these answers try to force them on the people by offering them free of cost.

EAGLE BRAND THE BEST NO TAR ROOFING NO TAR

It is superior to any other Roofing and unequalled for House, Barn, Factory or outbuilding; it costs half the price of shingles, tin or iron, and is ready for use and easily applied by anyone; it is the best roofing in the market, in durability, to all others. Send for estimate and state size of roof.

Excelsior Paint & Roofing Co., 155 Duane Street, New York, N. Y.

Great Excitement In Faisons, N. C.

A Cyclone in the Prices of Goods.

$10,000 Worth of Goods must be sold within the next sixty days regardless of price or cost in our store in Faisons, N. C.

This is a Solid Fact. No fake Advertisement.

To convince you of which I hereby quote you a few articles.

10,000 yards of best quality Calicoes at 4 cts a yard.
5,000 yards of Checkered Homespun, best North Carolina make, regular price 6 cts, price only 4 cts a yard.
5,000 yards 4-4 White Homespun, Sea Island and heavy Goods, regular price 7 cts, price only 4 cts a yard.
1,000 yards 4-4 heavy Bleaching, regular price 30 cts, price only 22 1/2 cts a yd.
50 yards finest Wash Silk, regular price $1.00, my price 32 1/2 cts a yd.
100 line Black Cloth Waxed Men's Suits, sold everywhere for $12.50, my price $7.50.
The best and cheapest stock of Men's, Ladies' and Children's Shoes ever offered in the State, I have in stock and at prices that will astonish you in their cheapness.

It will pay you to come fifty miles to buy your Spring and Summer supply, as I guarantee to save you at least 50 per cent. on your purchases.

Faisons, N. C., May 10th, 1895.

JOSEPH EDWARDS, THE CHAMPION OF LOW PRICES.

Trustees' Sale.

A Bookstore! Valuable Copyrights! A Long Established Business!

In closing up the partnership business of Alfred Williams & Co., Book-sellers and Publishers, the following valuable copyrights are offered for sale separate from the other stock of the firm: "Moore's School History of North Carolina," "Spencer's First Steps in North Carolina History," "C. Spelling Book," "Williams' Reader for Beginners," "Jesse's Justice and the Book," "N. C. Speaker," "Songs and Hymns for N. C. Schools." Five of these are on the State List of Public School Books. Offers for these are invited. Moore's and Spencer's Histories and Williams' Reader have electroplates.

The good-will, stock in trade and appliances are also offered for sale. This is the largest book store in the State and has been established nearly thirty years. No firm, corporation or person has succeeded to this business.

A. W. HAYWOOD, Trustee.

myself, Raleigh, N. C., May 1, '95.

Essex Pigs FOR SALE

Free Coinage No. 683.

(First registered Essex Boar owned in either of the Carolinas.) Young sows in pig to him a specialty.

R. L. STROWD, CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

KINDLY ASK A NEIGHBOR TO BECOME A SUBSCRIBER. IF HE WANTS TO KNOW FACTS HE CAN GET THEM, AND LOTS OF THEM DURING THE YEAR.

The Caucasus only $1.00 per year.

Is Your Blood Pure

If it is, you will be strong, vigorous, full of life and ambition; you will have a good appetite and good digestion; your sleep will be sound and refreshing; your nerves will be strong; you will have little need to fear disease in any form.

But how can you say that your blood is pure? How many people are suffering from the consequences of impure blood, scrofula, skin diseases, rheumatism, catarrh, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, and

That Tired Feeling

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood. Therefore, it is the best medicine for you.

It will give you pure, rich, red blood and strong nerves. It will overcome that tired feeling, create an appetite, give refreshing sleep and make you strong.

Is not this what you want? Then take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best building up medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25 cents.

"Mothers' Friend" Cures Rising Breast.

I have been a midwife for many years, and in each case where "MOTHERS' FRIEND" was used it accomplished wonders and shortened labor and lessened pain. It is the best remedy for RISING OF THE BREAST known, and worth the price for that alone.

Mrs. M. M. Brewster, Montgomery, Ala.

Sent by Express or mail, on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Book "To Mothers" mailed free.

BRADFORD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

FOR CAUCASIAN Will be sent one year.

THEY MAKE THE BEST GOODS IN THE SOUTH.

THEY HAVE BUILT A BRAND NEW MILL, and equipped it with the very best machinery. Write for samples and terms to the ELKIN WOOLEN MILLS.

THEIR BLANKETS ARE NOT EXCELLED IN AMERICA.

WEATMAN MANUFACTURING COMPANY, ELKIN, N. C.

THE CAUCASIAN.

RALEIGH, N. C., MAY 16, 1895.

WAKE COUNTY.

LOOK AT THE LABEL.
Your paper. Do not look for "any more." We have it on a printed label with the signature of your subscription expiring. When you receive it send your renewal (if you want the paper another year) at least before your subscription expires.

NOTICE.
C. D. Brown, of the firm of C. D. Brown & Co., of Goldsboro, N. C., will take subscriptions and give copies of the CAUCASIAN.
C. D. Brown is our authorized agent at that place.

EDITORIAL.

WAS GONE DEMOCRATIC AGAIN.

In the past few weeks the Wilmington Star has been more promoted in favor of the free coinage silver and financial reform than any other so-called Democratic paper in the State. Day after day that paper has contained leaders of a color more in length declaring for free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and if we remember correctly, for other remedial legislation, the abolishment of national banks, and a supplemental volume of legal tender treasury notes up to $50 per capita. The paper went even further. It denounced trading platforms of both the Democratic and Republican parties the money question, and said that country should not wait for any national monetary conference, but should go ahead and give the people a sufficient amount of currency as an American system.

It seemed to us that the Star had crossed the bridges behind it, and stood on the side of patriotism and the people in the great struggle. We began to feel confident that when the next National convention met and wrote another platform, straddling platform, that at least one Democratic paper in the State would stand for the people, and fight the "party of per-fidiousness." But alas! That paper disappointed us just as the last Democratic congress disappointed the people. In short, the Wilmington Star has done and said Democratic again. It has become a hedge and straddle. The symptom that we noticed of the Star's old malady was on May 10th. In a leading editorial it said that some way must be found to satisfy the silver agitation—that some compromise must be made with the big game. It said that the people should be satisfied with limited coinage of silver and suggested that from four millions a month (which was the Sherman law gave would do. It even went further and said the people should not demand the coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. It even goes further and falls back on the old Republican policy of coining only the American product. The gold bugs would gladly accept such a compromise as this.

We are unable to account for this change of front in the Wilmington Star. We haven't the measure of a personal acquaintance with the editor of that paper, and we are as much at a loss to diagnose his malady. He may have a science that plays hide and seek with pure caprice, or he may have a conscience that is known as periodic conscience—that is, a conscience that comes out in season and then goes back in when it is no longer needed.
There may be some other explanation for the sudden turning of the Star in the financial question. But the thing is certain—that as long as the paper tries to stay in line with the monopoly-ridden party of per-fidiousness, its opinions and actions are very uncertain and unreliable.

DEMOCRATS DESERTING IN LARGE NUMBERS TO THE POPULISTS.

In 1892 the Democratic party underwent a change of front in the financial question. The plutocrats caused by the high tariff, the constantly falling prices for overproduction, and that if the tariff was reduced to such extent as to provide for the necessary revenue to meet the expenses of the government economically administered, all things would be lovely; but the Populists, while they favored a low tariff, instead of that it had comparatively nothing to do with the general depression and hard times and earnestly argued that the cause of all our troubles was the constantly falling prices, caused by the demonetization of silver and contraction of the currency, and that there was not enough money in circulation to meet the demands of trade.

It is a well known fact that the Democratic speakers went from town to town and stump against tariff reduction and would talk of nothing unless they were driven to speak of the currency or money question by the Populist speakers when they met in joint debate. Again in 1894, the Democratic party in this State, becoming a little frightened at the persistence of the people in hurrah-ing for Vance, in his effort to defeat the unconditional repeal of the silver purchasing act, put in their platform a declaration for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and run the campaign in the interest of a man who had voted for the unconditional repeal of the silver purchasing act, and who in his many speeches in the campaign never had a friendly word for silver. By this time the people had become satisfied that if the Democrats should be successful this gold bug would be sent to the U. S. Senate to stab silver again, and make the victory of gold complete for all time, and they rebelled against their old leaders and sent the Democratic party to the rear.

And now that independent patriotism and intelligent men, having seen that the Democratic party, if so inclined, will be powerless, with its northern allies, to demonize silver silver are about to join the Populists in great numbers.

The leaders of the Democratic party, the machine which for years has been and always will be controlled by gold bugs, capitalists and corporations, are getting ready to try to fool the people by pretending to be opposed to Cleveland and in favor of the demonetization of silver.

Do not be deceived. The man who sits in his office in Raleigh and names the Democratic candidates for office has not changed his principles. He is as much in favor of gold monometalism now as ever; and the man who is now enjoying his reward at a foreign court for playing cuckoo to Cleveland is not too far away to direct the hand of the Democratic party. The boys may be permitted to write silver platforms and make silver speeches to amuse themselves and fool the crowd, but when the necessity arises they will be made to follow the dictation of these two bosses. They have killed and made alive before, and they will do so again.

Come to us! Join the Populists, the party of the people, the common people, if you please, where you will be free to call your souls your own, and help us in this great struggle against the money power for the liberty, happiness and prosperity of all the people.

A GREAT PATRIOT VS. A GREAT TRAITOR.

A few days ago we were looking over an old volume of Parton's Sketches of the "Ladies of the White House." On page 305, in the sketch of Mr. Andrew Jackson, the author, discussing the qualifications, the power and the responsibilities of a President of the United States, says: "Considered in all its bearings there is not in the whole world a position more honorable, more important, or more responsible than that of the President of the United States. Well were it needful to choose with circumspection the chief magistrate of a country so vast, of a people so intelligent and brave, and possessing the elements of such greatness and glory, who holds in his grasp such a multitude of destinies; and who is able, by his decisions, to continue the sunshine of prosperity, or to bring the bitter clouds of adversity and discord."

The above is a striking contrast between Andrew Jackson and Grover Cleveland. Jackson fought the goldbugs and national banks. He won, but his last warning to the American people was that they use "eternal vigilance" or the greedy monster would return, either in the shape of national banks or State banks, to bleed and crush the people again. In 1892 Senator Ransom voted to fasten this monster on the necks of the people again. Senator Vance fought and voted against the crime. Now comes a Democratic President who has the power to bring "sunshine and prosperity," but who goes over to the enemy, the goldbugs and national banks, a bitter blast of adversity and discord upon the people. This is modern Democracy. Andrew Jackson believed in the same Democracy that the People's Party now advocates; Cleveland and Ransom believe in the doctrines and practices of John Sherman. Freeman of North Carolina, choose ye which to follow!

Let the bells bang—the whistles whoop—the yowlers yell and the little Democratic jimpettes jump for joy. The plutocrats have won again. The whole income tax law is swept off the books by the SUPREME COURT. Now let the London Jew Syndicate and the Wall Street Bankers howl for another bond deal.
They will get it. It may be another secret deal.

"What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Why be a stubborn dolt, and cling to the idea that reforms can be procured within the old party lines? Be a man and say you are a Populist.
The old parties are split into two every issue. The Populists know what they want, and are moving to get it. Fall in.

That Democratic History of the Legislature is out. It is simply a rehash, of the Legislative miscegenation effusions &c. of the News and Observer. It is therefore only a still born abortion. That's all, except the fact that it will make every intelligent, honest man who happens to read it a Populist. We have no use for any other stripe of men.

THE LAW IS SWEEPED AWAY.

Every Section of the Income Tax Declared Unconstitutional.

THE COURT STOOD 5 TO 4.

Justice Harlan's Ruling Words—He Makes an Almost Sensational Appeal Upon the Majority Decision—Justice Waite Talks About the "Blood-red Specter of Revolution," and the Constitution as an "Engine of Oppression."

Readers of the CAUCASIAN are familiar with the first decision of the Supreme court on the income tax.
Briefly stated, a law was passed by Congress taxing all incomes of $4,000 and more. The great corporations and bondholders managed to bring this law before the Supreme court of the United States to see if it was "unconstitutional." The court decided that incomes from rents and bonds could not be taxed. Other incomes could be taxed. This decision let the land-grabbers and bondholders of the country escape taxation on their incomes; but said that incomes made by labor amounting to over $4,000 annually could be taxed.

There was widespread and general disapproval of this decision. The disapproval was so great, the court agreed to have a second hearing on the matter. The second decision was rendered on May 20th, and declares that a tax on any income is "unconstitutional." Of course when the people express their disapproval of class decisions, the court says no income must be taxed. Evidently, the Court will protect the bondholders and land-grabbers in any event. If the money, mostly people will not consent to have incomes from labor taxed and other incomes go free, then the whole law is "unconstitutional." This is the way it looks.

This second decision wipes the law off the books on the constitutional dodge. In the second decision the court stands as follows:
Against the law—Chief Justice Fuller, Justices Field, Gray, Brewer
and Shiras.

For the law—Justices Harlan,
Brown, Jackson and White.
So there were five against the law, and four for it. Justice Harlan states the case about as fairly as it can be stated when he says, in his opinion:

"But by its present construction of the Constitution, this court, for the first time in all its history, declares that our government has no right to tax in matters of taxation the income of the people. It is the opinion of the court that those who have money derived from the renting of real estate, from the renting of personal property, or who own invested personal property, have privately and secretly to the exclusion of those who have money derived from their hands, or the exercise of their skill, or the use of their brains, let me illustrate this in the large cities, or financial centers of the country, there are persons who derive income from the control of millions of dollars that have been erected, not to be occupied by the owner, but for the sole purpose of being rented. Year after year these millions upon millions of dollars come regularly derived. In the same neighborhood are others who own neither real estate nor invested personal property, but who are engaged in the sale of bonds, or stocks of any kind, and whose entire income arises from the renting of such securities, and who are in particular callings, trades, or professions, or from the labor of their hands, or the use of their brains, and it is now held that under the Constitution, however urgent may be the needs of the government, the administration in power may be pressed to meet the moneyed obligations of the Nation, Congress cannot tax the income of the property, nor the income arising from real estate or from invested personal property, but it may tax the income of the laborer, the artisan, the farmer, the physician, even the minister of the Gospel, no one of whom happens to own real estate, invested personal property, stocks, or bonds, to contribute directly, and under the rule of uniformity or equality, from their respective earnings, for the support of the government."

This may be what is called law, but it is neither common sense nor justice. Going further Justice Harlan holds that the income tax is a part of the Wilson tariff bill and says:
"If, therefore, all the income tax sections of the Wilson bill are repealed, otherwise the result is to be a disaster to the country. The practical effect of the decision is to give to the moneyed class a position of favoritism and advantage that is inconsistent with the fundamental principles of our social organization. It is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the American people who are engaged in the production of wealth, and who are not part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more than the property of the country should be at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most outrageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."
Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental principles of our social organization. It is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

HOW IS THIS?

Two Wrongdoers Not Make a Right—But Which was the Greatest Thief?

Louis A. Hillard, who was cashier of the Chicago Tribune, embezzled $5,000 some two years ago and was convicted thereof and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, was pardoned last week by Governor Altgeld for various reasons, including youth and previous good character. The Governor concludes his reasons for granting the pardon as follows:

"There is another point suggested by this case, and that is, how far the integrity and sense of right of young men employed in some large money-making establishment is undermined and weakened by a knowledge of the fact that their employers are getting large sums of money which, while not always obtained by criminal means, nevertheless, in equity and good conscience, do not belong to them. This young man had charge of the financial department of the Tribune company. He knew that the Chicago school fund, and, instead of paying a fair cash annual rental of it, had managed to get the money so fixed that it pocketed in the neighborhood of $25,000 a year of money which went to have gone to the school fund. He also knew that while the Tribune had a cash market value of upwards of $3,000,000, and should have been assessed for purposes of general taxation at not less than $600,000, the company had managed things so that it was actually assessed at only $18,000 and he saw that it annually pocketed in the neighborhood of $40,000 which would have gone into the public treasury as taxes if the Tribune company had paid the same proportion of taxes on its property that other people paid on theirs. In other words, he saw that the Tribune company annually pocketed upwards of $60,000 of money which in equity and good conscience should have belonged to the public treasury, and he saw that, notwithstanding this fact, the owners of the Tribune were eminent and highly respected citizens. The natural effect of all this was to weaken the moral force of the young man, as well as his sense of integrity.
There is no question but that similar conditions exist in other large offices, and while this can not be any excuse for the commission of crime by employees, it is a fact that is to be deplored, and some remedy should be found."

There was widespread and general
disapproval of this decision. The
disapproval was so great, the court
agreed to have a second hearing on the matter. The second decision
was rendered on May 20th, and de-
clares that a tax on any income is
"unconstitutional." Of course when
the people express their disapproval of class decisions, the court
says no income must be taxed. Evidently, the Court will protect the
bondholders and land-grabbers in
any event. If the money, mostly
people will not consent to have
incomes from labor taxed and other
incomes go free, then the whole law
is "unconstitutional." This is the way it looks.

This second decision wipes the law
off the books on the constitutional
dodge. In the second decision the
court stands as follows:
Against the law—Chief Justice
Fuller, Justices Field, Gray, Brewer
and Shiras.

For the law—Justices Harlan,
Brown, Jackson and White.
So there were five against the law,
and four for it. Justice Harlan
states the case about as fairly as it can be stated when he says, in his opinion:

"But by its present construction of the Constitution, this court, for the first time in all its history, declares that our government has no right to tax in matters of taxation the income of the
people. It is the opinion of the court
that those who have money derived from
the renting of real estate, from the
renting of personal property, or who
own invested personal property, have privately and secretly to the exclusion of
those who have money derived from their
hands, or the exercise of their skill, or the
use of their brains, let me illustrate this
in the large cities, or financial centers
of the country, there are persons who derive
income from the control of millions of
dollars that have been erected, not to
be occupied by the owner, but for the sole
purpose of being rented. Year after year
these millions upon millions of dollars
come regularly derived. In the same
neighborhood are others who own neither
real estate nor invested personal property, but who are engaged in the sale of
bonds, or stocks of any kind, and
whose entire income arises from the
renting of such securities, and who are
in particular callings, trades, or professions,
or from the labor of their hands, or the use
of their brains, and it is now held that
under the Constitution, however urgent
may be the needs of the government, the
administration in power may be pressed
to meet the moneyed obligations of
the Nation, Congress cannot tax the in-
come of the property, nor the income arising
from real estate or from invested personal
property, but it may tax the income
of the laborer, the artisan, the farmer,
the physician, even the minister of
the Gospel, no one of whom happens to own
real estate, invested personal property,
stocks, or bonds, to contribute directly, and
under the rule of uniformity or equality,
from their respective earnings, for the support of the government."

This may be what is called law,
but it is neither common sense nor
justice. Going further Justice Harlan holds that the income tax is a part of the Wilson tariff bill and
says:
"If, therefore, all the income tax sections
of the Wilson bill are repealed, other-
wise the result is to be a disaster to the country. The practical effect of the decision
is to give to the moneyed class a position
of favoritism and advantage that is
inconsistent with the fundamental principles of our social organization. It is
a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be
at the mercy of the lawless."

Justice White, in his opinion in
favor of the tax, said:
"That the power to tax by appointment
cannot be called into being without the
specter of revolution shaking the foundations of the Union, without making the
constitution the engine of the most out-
rageous oppression and inequality the world
has ever known."

Justice Brown said:
"It is difficult to overstate the importance of these cases. I certainly cannot
overstate the regret I feel at the disposition
made of them. By the court's decision
a light thing to set aside the deliberate will
of the legislature, and in my opinion it
never is done, except upon the clearest
proof of its conflict with the fundamental
principles of our social organization. It
is a position of power and influence that
may be perilous to that portion of the
American people who are engaged in the
production of wealth, and who are not
part of the burdens of the government,
and who ought not to be subjected to the
burden of aggregated wealth any more
than the property of the country should be at the mercy of the law

ALL SPLIT UP.
A Little Diagnosis of the Condition of the Old Parties on the Financial Question.
Washington Post.

Democratic leaders and organs do not affect ignorance of the palpable fact that their party is in the throes of a serious conflict on the question of coinage. They do not claim that there is peace where they know there is no peace, or that harmony exists where they know that discord reigns. On the contrary, they recognize the extent and seriousness of the disturbance, and they fully appreciate the gravity of the situation. Thus situated the free and anti-free coinage factions are each striving to get in shape to control the Democratic national convention next year.

The Republican leaders and organs are less frank than their opponents in their treatment of the similar but probably less extensive disturbance in their party. No fact is better known than the existence of free silver and anti-free silver wings or factions in the Republican household.

The Omaha Bee, one of the strong Republican journals of the South-west, appears to think that the Democratic situation is hopeless, and that all is serene on the Republican side of the fence. It says:

"The silver fight in the Democratic party threatens to utterly demoralize and disrupt that political organization, for whether the champions of free silver or the friends of a sound currency are successful in the next national convention of the party, there undoubtedly will follow a disintegration which will place the party in a hopeless minority for years." * * * This conflict in the Democratic camp will grow in interest, because the politicians who are conducting the free silver campaign are firmly determined to commit the party to their policy in the next national contest, and nothing will persuade them to desert or to abandon their purpose."

Having thus diagnosed the Democratic situation and calmly decided that the old party must be "in a hopeless minority for years," all on account of "utter demoralization and disruption" on the silver question, the Bee turns its attention to its own party and solemnly declares:

"There is no serious conflict in the Republican ranks on this question, and it is not to be doubted that the next national convention of the party will take the same stand regarding silver that the last one did, nor is it at all doubtful that on such a platform it will carry the country."

"No serious conflict in the Republican ranks on this question," the Bee writes, "is a statement which bears the opinion of another Republican paper, an organ in excellent standing in Missouri and Kansas, the Kansas City Journal. That paper is very sure that the next Republican convention will not 'take the same stand,' &c. It believes that sort of 'twiddle-tiddle' is played out. It says, and its meaning is plain, that—

"The better the masses of the people understand the deception that has been practiced upon them by the agents of the gold ring, the more emphatic will be the demand for straight-out party declarations in the platform of next year. It will not do to longer temporize with the question. The issue is to be the free coinage of silver as well as gold, as against out and out gold monometallism. The candidate who hopes to stem the tide that is now on by any sort of twiddle-tiddle about favoring silver 'just one dollar shall be made as good as another dollar' may as well step out of the race now."

After explaining that free coinage means "honest money," "sound money," and "safe money," the Journal adds:

"The candidate who undertakes to temporize with the question as stated on these lines will find himself a loser in the race—and that is just what they are all beginning to see. They are not ready yet to come out squarely and take sides for or against the free coinage of silver, but are waiting for further development, in the hope that something will turn up that shall relieve them of a measure of the embarrassment that now confronts them. But there will have to be a square show-down in the end."

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES.

Fortunes Which Have Been Made by Using Private Advertisements.

Major Moses P. Hanby, says the Boston Herald, tells of a business concern with a nominal capital of $100,000, only $30,000 of it paid in, that has divided in a single year, among three partners, profits to the amount of $750,000, and that exclusive salaries of $50,000 and $25,000 drawn by two members of the firm. Ten years ago one of these partners was a drug clerk on a small salary in a Western town and is now one of the millionaires of New York. "Without newspaper advertising I might have made a living," he said, "but it was advertising that made me rich, and advertising a very simple commodity at that." Another concern, which began by investing $10,000 a year in newspaper advertising, increased the amount every year according to their increase of business, and this year expects to spend $1,000,000. These are only specimen bricks of the enormous profits realized from shrewd newspaper advertising.

The Atlanta Constitution of Tuesday tells of the finding in Gainesville, Ga., of the pretty Mary Bryson, who was abducted about two weeks ago from her home near Franklin, Macon county, N. C., by her brother-in-law, R. A. Henry. The latter being wild, his father-in-law, old man James Bryson, had secured the separation of his daughter and the young man, Henry, perhaps for spite, then pursued the youngest daughter in the Bryson family to run away telling her he would secure her work in Atlanta. He placed her, however, in a boarding school at Gainesville, and went to Atlanta himself, where he has been captured, and sent back to North Carolina. The girl was glad to go back home.

THE CAUCASIAN, $1.00 per year.

DO YOU READ?

DO YOU THINK?

Would your good wife like an elegant illustrated Monthly Magazine?

If not, do you not think your son or daughter would?

If so, you can gratify them. THE CAUCASIAN has made clubbing arrangements with two of the most delightful and popular Magazines in the country. They are

Southern Magazine

The Blue and Gray

Both are artistically illustrated and are full of the productions of the best writers and artists of the day.

THE SOUTHERN MAGAZINE will delight your daughter. THE BLUE AND GRAY will instruct and enthuse your son. Either will be an eagerly looked for and welcomed visitor by every member of your family.

THE SOUTHERN MAGAZINE

The general character of this Magazine is shown by the following extracts from various papers:

It would have a hundred thousand readers within the next year.—Gainesville News.

"The SOUTHERN MAGAZINE is, by all odds, the handsomest, the most ambitious, and the most attractive magazine that ever bore a Southern mark, and is a worthy vehicle of the best contemporary talent."—Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal.

"The SOUTHERN MAGAZINE has made for itself a place among the best magazines of the country, and is sure to hold it. It is a favorite, not only in the South, but in all parts of the country."—Savannah (Ga.) News.

"This magazine is fairly representative of the literary culture of the South, especially among the best classes."—Boston Herald.

"The SOUTHERN MAGAZINE has a field peculiarly its own, and fills it most admirably. The distinctive flavor of 'Dixie' is a most entrancing feature, and one we, even from a Northern standpoint, would much regret to lose."—Fairmount (Minn.) News.

"Its high tone and literary character, its excellent print and fine illustrations place the SOUTHERN in the front ranks of the Magazines of the day."—Annapolis (Md.) Capital.

Every reader is charmed with it. Its tone is lofty. It educates and cultivates, and is a special favorite with ladies, as well as a bright and interesting periodical for men.

THE BLUE and GRAY

Is a Magazine for men and women. It is eagerly read by boys and girls. It is fast winning its way into homes everywhere. Its contents and illustrations are first-class. There is something in every number for everybody. History, Romance, Poetry, Music, Essays on Finance, National Politics, and the Living Issues of the Day, by the best Writers. AMERICAN IN EVERYTHING FROM COVER TO COVER.

SOME CONTENTS FOR APRIL, 1895, AND SUCCEEDING ISSUES.

THE TEXTILE SCHOOLS OF AMERICA. CHARLESTON, S. C.—A CITY WITH HISTORY. BY FLEETWOOD GRUBER.

This paper will be of special interest to young people seeking a profitable avocation, and will be fully illustrated.

IN A WAR ARTIST'S STUDIO.

A beautifully illustrated article, describing one of the most notable collections of war art and war relics in existence. Reproductions of some of the most thrilling battle scenes will accompany this paper.

FACTS AND FALLACIES IN FINANCE.

It is doubtful whether any series of magazine articles has attracted more comment, both favorable and adverse, than the series contributed by Mr. William Penn, Jr., under the above caption. Antagonizing all forms of "commodity money," gold and silver alike, Mr. Penn has separated himself from the two great contending interests, both of which he asserts to be illogical, unphilosophical, un-American, and unpractical.

We announce with unusual pleasure the resumption of Mr. Bruce T. Caldwell's discussion of the topic named above. This series was begun in 1893 and continued in 1894, but the publication has been unavoidably interrupted in each year.

The subscription price for each of these elegant magazines is $1.50 per year. By special arrangement, we can give the following low

CLUB RATES

The Caucasian and The Southern Magazine

One Year For $1.75

The Caucasian and Blue and Gray

One Year For $1.90

This is a reading age. Great questions are under discussion. In some cases it may seem to be a sacrifice to pay even the above small amounts for such elegant publications, but when once done, there are never any regrets at the action.

ADDRESS THE CAUCASIAN PUBLISHING CO., RALEIGH, N. C.

Turmoil In South Carolina.

(Continued from 1st page.)

ization and progress; or the other, the black flag of the debasement and ignorant African, with the white traitors, who are seeking to regain political power. It is fortunate that the issue comes at this time, when a constitution is to be made, guaranteeing white supremacy once and forever.

WHITE MEN MUST CONTROL.

The constitutional convention must be controlled by white men, not white men with black hearts, not negroes. The world must be shown that we are capable of governing ourselves and that constitution or no constitution, law or no law, court or no court, the intelligent white men of South Carolina intend to govern her. Let the man who undertakes to lead the ignorant blacks against us suffer as he did in 1876, and remember that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I will not call the legislature together. They could do nothing. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme court of the United States, but under the red tape and technicalities surrounding it, a decision cannot be had in time to affect the election of delegates. It must be a free open fight. I appeal to the sovereign people of South Carolina, the wisest and safest and purest tribunal to protect their homes and liberties. They have never failed to respond to duty. The government of the people must and shall be perpetuated and we are ready to lead the fight under the white man's flag.

The Prosperity of Silver Countries.

Philadelphia Item.

A general press dispatch quotes the following words of Mr. Raoul, president of the Mexican National R. R., on the subject of the effects of free silver upon the prosperity of Mexico.

"I attributed it to the profits of his road in excess of United States roads, to the impetus given to business in that country by the use of silver for money. For four years successively, during which time roads have failed to pay dividends, in the face of an exchange (in Mexico) of two to one to meet our fixed foreign charges, the Mexican National (R. R.) has netted a profit of $300,000 a year!"

"The use of the silver dollar," he continues, "has stimulated every industry, and there is a continued increase of prosperity in that country. * * * If legislation can do the one thing, it can do the other." (Alluding to the depreciation of silver as one thing, and the prosperity of the country, as the other.)

This testimony is of value to the people of this country, as it is in corroboration of similar testimony of the numerous other travelers of note and care in their observation.

It means that free silver in Mexico has had precisely the same effect as in other free-silver-basis countries; that is, it has been a wall of local protection and stimulated local industries beyond all precedent.

All Europe is being stagnated in its manufacturing and producing interests by the recent rapid and unprecedented growth of manufacturing and production in silver-basis countries. It is quite natural to see that silver-basis countries in trading with one another on a silver basis are placed above all the ordinary competition of gold basis countries, because no silver-basis country will buy from a gold-basis country and pay the gold basis country two dollars for what it can get from a silver-basis country—including itself—for one dollar."

That is the root of the silver question, and clearly explains itself.

T. F. Davidson who was selected by the Democrats to harmonize the party and who was admitted to be the biggest man in the party, was elected by the insignificant majority of 67, running behind the part of the aldermanic caucus. Asheville will give a majority of 700, but that day is passed never to return.—Asheville Register.

Very Important

Country Merchants.

OF COURSE YOU HANDLE SCHOOL BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Messrs. Haywood & Pittman, Trustees of Alfred Williams & Co., are offering to dealers a large stock of SCHOOL BOOKS, WRITING PAPER, INK, BLANK BOOKS, PASS-BOOKS, MEMORANDUMS, &c., &c., &c.

In lots of $10 or more, at prices far below anything at which these goods have ever before been brought into this State. Now is the time and opportunity to replenish your stock. Haywood & Pittman, Raleigh, N. C., will give any information that may be desired by persons intending to purchase. Sales will be made for cash only.

A. W. HAYWOOD, THOMAS M. PITTMAN, Trustees.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

THE RELIABLE SPECIALISTS Regular Graduates in Medicine, Authorized by the State, Six National Banks for Financial Reference, thousands of Patients all over the United States as to our professional ability. All business conducted on a strictly professional basis and strictly confidential. Consultation Free at office or by mail. Treatment sent everywhere free of observation. No interference with business while using medicines.

Seminal Weakness and Sexual Debility

Caused by excessive use of the sexual organs, producing nervousness, loss of appetite, indigestion, constipation, backache, headache, dizziness, and all the symptoms of general debility. We can cure you in 30 days, or your money back.

Syphilis.

The terrible disease, in all its forms and stages cured in 30 days, or your money back. No pain, no exposure, no loss of time. We can cure you in 30 days, or your money back.

Stricture.

Ladies.

Rheumatism.

Book

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

224 SOUTH BROAD STREET, ATLANTA, GA.

HONESTY

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

SKILL

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

NO MORE BALD HEADS!

FREE! 5,000 Watches and Chains for Ladies and Gents to be given away absolutely free of charge. An elegant watch and chain given away with each bottle.

LOOK ON

Free Distribution Watch and Chain

Special Notice!

REMEMBER!

To get the watch and chain you must cut out this advertisement and send it with your order.

DUKE CIGARETTES

DUKE DURHAM CIGARETTES

High Grade Tobacco

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Give Your Boy a Chance

A host in life that will help him.

You Cannot Build

Only Sure Foundation

Remember

The Observer

"NO HUMBUG."

Insolvency of the Banks.

While the National Bankers and Chambers of Commerce are figuring on Uncle Sam's inability to float his financial system without foreign intervention, they could relieve the situation of embarrassment if the bankers would explain to the public how they manage to survive. The report of the Secretary of the Treasury, Oct. 2nd, 1894, gives the amount of money in existence in the United States, as follows:

$1,672,093,422. Amount owed by banks to depositors $1,738,418,819.12. Amount cash on hand $423,428,182.45. If a demand was made they could pay only 33 per cent. of the deposits. The Morehead Daily News thinks if the average citizen will allow his mind to ruminate upon these figures he will conclude that the whole gamut of banks is insolvent.—People's Party Paper.

THE CAUCASIAN $1.00 per year.

COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL

CONCERNING

THE COMING POLITICAL ISSUE.

sea and lakes to gulf IT will be the absorbing topic of the CAMPAIGN OF 1896.

SEVENTY ILLUSTRATIONS

The great battle of the ballots in the coming Presidential election will be fought on these lines. How are you going to vote? If your mind is made up, it is based on prejudice or reason?

More facts and instructive information than was ever before furnished in a single volume on the subject of money.

The tuition at Coin's Financial School is 25 cents (including book). More knowledge acquired than ever before for the same money.

Absolutely non-partisan.

WE WILL SEND

THE CAUCASIAN One Year

Or THE CAUCASIAN One Year

ADDRESS THE CAUCASIAN PUBLISHING CO., RALEIGH, N. C.

P. P. P.

PRICKLY ASH, POKE ROOT AND POTASSIUM

Makes

Marvelous Cures

In Blood Poison

Rheumatism

and Scrofula

Polk Monument.

FOR THE RUPTURED

DR. DIX'S

CANCER

What is Castoria

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

CANSTORIA

For Infants and Children.

Do not be imposed upon, but insist upon having Castoria, and see that the facsimile signature of

Chas. H. Pitcher.

THE CENTRE COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

THE CAUCASIAN WILL MAKE IT HOT FOR ENEMIES OF REFORM ALL THIS YEAR. IF YOU WANT TO KEEP POSTED IN REFORM WORK, SEND US YOUR NAME FOR A YEAR.

A 7-Horse Power Engine For Sale.

A 7-horse power Watertown Engine, good as new, for sale. It was used for a short while to run the CAUCASIAN press. A gas engine has been put in to get lower insurance rates. It is a bargain. Apply to MARION BUTLER, Raleigh, N. C., or DEWEY BROS., Goldsboro, N. C.

A GRAND DISCOVERY!

WANTED—A few men or women to sell our new and improved "Ansy Pills" in all parts of the country. The pills are a grand discovery, and will cure all kinds of ailments. For full particulars, send for our circular. Free. Address: The Ansy Pills Co., Dept. 1, Boston, Mass.

ANSY PILLS

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO.